

Curriculum Vitae

Name: Partha S. Chowdhury

Affiliation: Senior Director and Head, Antibody Discovery at Sanofi Genzyme

Short Biography (maximum of 400 words):

Partha S. Chowdhury is a Senior Director of Biologics Research in Sanofi. He has been involved with therapeutic antibody discovery, engineering and technology development for more than 20 years. Prior to Sanofi, he had held various positions within MedImmune, Human Genome Sciences and NIH. He has been the recipient of The Technology Transfer award from the USA National Laboratory Consortium. Beside his current responsibility at Sanofi, Partha is also the Assistant Editor of journal mAbs.

Speech Summary at ATC 2017

ATC 2017

Antibody Therapeutics Conference

Speech Title: Technologies and their role in the evolution of therapeutic antibodies

Speech Summary (200-500 words)

The trajectory of therapeutic antibody in the last 20 years is ridden with some serious setbacks which have subsequently been resolved through paradigm changing concepts and technological developments. This talk will focus on some of those technological advancements and how they have shaped and continue to influence the evolution of therapeutic antibodies from discovery through development and into the clinic.